

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates. The cable ownership cap is a crucial element of our democratic media, and it should not be weakened.

I feel that the recent events and talks over the "uncapping" of cable in America will not only be only in the best interests of the cable conglomerates (calling them anything else would be a lie), but would be in the worst interests for every American citizen.
